

Kuaishou Physical and Environmental Safeguards Management Regulations

These regulations aim to regulate the physical and environmental safeguards of Kuaishou and its related companies and regional branches (branches, offices and representative offices), so as to prevent unauthorized physical access, damage and interference to the Company's physical areas and information.

It is stipulated that the physical areas shall be divided into server rooms, important areas and office premises, and corresponding security management shall be carried out. In addition, physical security isolation measures shall be set up around any information processing facilities (including server rooms, offices), such as access control systems. Safety precaution measures shall be implemented in building entrances and exits. Protective facilities shall be established to avoid hazards from fire, water, extreme temperature/humidity, dust and electricity.
